OMINOUS LULL IN THE EUROPEAN WAR SITUATION PREVAILS: ONLY HITLER AND STALIN KNOW WHAT WILL HAPPEN: MOSCOW PREPARES

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter)—WHILE AN OMINOUS LULL PREVAILS IN THE EUROPEAN WAR SITUATION, THE TENDENCY OF EVENTS POINTS MORE AND MORE TO THE BELIEF THAT GERMANY IS PREPARING TO ATTACK RUSSIA OR TURNING THE HEAT ON THE SOVIET TO EXTRACT CONCESSIONS DESIGNED TO BREAK THE BRITISH BLOCKADE.

This view is taken by most commentators in British newspapers which again, bannerline the Russo-German situation and reports on German troop movements and defence precautions by Moscow.

A FEATURE OF THE SITUATION IS THE FLOOD OF RUMOURS, SOME OF A HIGHLY SENSATIONAL CHARACTER, WHICH CIRCULATE IN VARIOUS NEUTRAL EUROPEAN CENTRES, MANY BEARING MARKS OF GERMAN INSPIRATION FOLLOWING THE CUSTOMARY SMOKE-SCREEN LINES.

WILL GERMANY FIGHT RUSSIA ONCE MORE?

German-Russian relations were discussed by MR. F. A. VOIGT, the well-known writer and authority on international affairs, when he broadcast from London yesterday. In the absence of Mr. H. Wickham Steed, in the series "WORLD AFFAIRS."

Mr. Voigt said that those who had followed German-Russian relations through history would be able to get a pretty clear idea of the present principles which govern them.

Mr. Voigt declared that Germany had always regarded Russia as an enemy and the question now was whether the Germans would go to war against them once more.

"The question is whether Russia will fight or whether she will capitulate without fighting," said Mr. Voigt. "There has always been something strange about German-Russian relations. Sometimes they have thrown themselves against each other as though each regarded the other as their enemy number one, but at other times they behave as though they have always been on the best of terms."

Mr. Voigt referred to the report of the massing of a German army of over 1,000,000 men on the Russian frontier and then went on to trace the growth of Communism in its relation to Internationalism and Fascism.

THE DIFFERENCE

He described the difference between Bolshevism and Fascism by declaring that while Bolshevism took away a man's cow, under Fascism an official called and took away the milk.

Tension In Rumania

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter)—Tension among the Rumanian public is reflected in a broadcast by General Antonescu as reported by Swiss Radio today.

The General's broadcast was, it is stated, an appeal to the population to remain calm and to exercise self-control, and concluded with the promise that "in due course" all necessary explanations would be given.

ANKARA, June 20 (Reuter)—Twenty students from the Turkish Military Academy, accompanied by one officer, left here last night for London.

Excellent Opportunity

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter)—THE DEPARTURE of Mr. Shigemitsu, the Japanese Ambassador, on a short visit to Tokyo will provide the Japanese Government with an excellent opportunity of obtaining authentic and first-hand information on conditions in this country, comments THE TIMES in an editorial.

"SUCH A SUPPLEMENT to the reports furnished by Mr. Matsukata after his recent tour of the German, Italian and Russian capitals should prove valuable, and no one is better qualified to furnish it."

"WHATEVER THE VIEW may be taken of the policies of the Government he represents, Mr. Shigemitsu has won personal respect everywhere in London for his method of presenting them."

"WHILE IT DOES NOT fall to the task of an Ambassador to frame policy, the visit of Mr. Shigemitsu to Tokyo should provide the assurance that full weight will be given by the national councils to the reactions to that policy on countries in the English-speaking world."

"AT ANY RATE, no longer be any excuse for the somewhat added appreciation of the situation which appeared at times to prevail in certain Japanese official circles."

The general conclusion in responsible diplomatic quarters is that only Herr Hitler and M. Stalin know what will happen.

As expressed by THE TIMES Diplomatic correspondent, "German armies stand ranged on the Soviet frontier, that is certain. Stalin will soon be under heavy pressure, that is probable. But whether Hitler will persist to the point of war, or whether Stalin will resist to the point of war, is still open to doubt."

"The clearest sign of what the British Government think may be seen in the increasingly heavy bombing of the Ruhr and invasion ports. No matter what happens, Great Britain will not be put off her guard nor deflected from her declared purpose—to liberate Europe from the recurring menace of German aggression."

THE DAILY TELEGRAPH and the DAILY MAIL report the Berlin announcement that Hitler received the Balkan blitzkrieg chief, Field-Marshal von List.

Analysing all reports on the situation in Eastern Europe, THE TIMES reviews the position in the following terms:—

"Along the whole length of the Soviet frontier, from Petsamo to the Black Sea, the Germans are perfecting their war machine. There are two divisions in Finland and probably a major part of a third, but these forces lack heavy artillery and heavy bombers."

FINNISH RESERVISTS

"Finnish reservists are being called up, the Germans promising them that very soon the lost parts of Karelia will be theirs again. The main German striking force, along an arc formed by East Prussia and German-occupied Poland, have large bombing fleets and armoured divisions apart from infantry."

"Speedy return of lost territories is promised. The excitement is greatest in Rumania."

THE NEWS-CHRONICLE Diplomatic correspondent remarks that it is significant that the whispers from German sources of Hitler's intention to attack Russia immediately became louder within minutes of the signature of the German-Turkish pact.

GIGANTIC SELL-OUT

The correspondent adds: "Although there are some who think a gigantic sell-out by Stalin is still the most likely outcome, the ranks of those believing that Hitler and the German General Staff have decided on a lightning war without giving Stalin even an opportunity to make concessions if he wished, is growing."

Similarly, the Daily Telegraph in an editorial, quotes comment on the Turco-German Pact in Ankara which inclines to estimate it as a form of ultimatum from Germany to Russia. It is like the conclusions being drawn all over the world.

NEW YORK, June 20 (Reuter)—The Robin Loxley arrived in South Africa today with a complete mobile hospital unit for the South African forces, presented by the President of the Robin Line.

Farewell Address

WANG CHUNG-HUI

CHUNGKING, June 20 (Reuter)

—The Chinese war of resistance is now receiving international assistance, and international justice must eventually prevail, declared DR. WANG CHUNG-HUI, retiring

DR. WANG CHUNG-HUI

Chinese Foreign Minister, in a farewell speech before the staff of the Chinese Foreign Office yesterday afternoon.

Reviewing China's foreign relations during the past four years, Dr. Wang Chung-hui stated:

"There have been changes in the international situation during China's four years of resistance."

"Our foreign relations during these years may be divided into three periods the first of which was with China fighting alone, the second with international sympathy while the present or third period, with international assistance."

Concluding, Dr. Wang thanked the staff for their co-operation during the past four years.

SUPPLY OF WAR MATERIALS FOR ALL NEEDS

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter)—It is reported in Berlin that Germany and Italy have signed an agreement dealing with the supply of war materials for joint Axis needs during the second half of the current year.

The negotiations leading to the signing of the agreement are stated to have covered problems that arose in Germany and Italy with the recent political changes in South-Eastern Europe.

The Stefani News Agency states that Italy and Turkey are negotiating for a trade agreement which is expected to be signed next week.

£15,000 Fine Imposed On Scottish Potato Farmer At Bow Street

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter)—A fine of £15,000 was imposed on ROBERT HOGG, Scottish potato farmer of Dalkeith, Midlothian, at Bow Street today for FAILING TO OFFER FOR SALE TO THE TREASURY U.S.$26,822 worth £6,655.

"You are as bad as the enemy of this country," commented Sir Robert Dunn, Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, in fining Hogg.

Sir Robert had remanded Hogg from last Monday to come up for sentence today because he "felt rather not about the case and had never sentenced anybody in such a state of emotion."

Yesterday Hogg was fined £15,000 at the Mansion House for failing to offer to the Treasury.

WORST CASE

Sir Robert declared that it was one of the worst cases he has come across. Hogg had earned the contempt of every man who knew the facts of the case. He had to consider whether at Hogg's age to send him to prison or leave him free "to know that every person who meets you will feel the same contempt for you as I do."

Sir Robert added that he decided the latter will be the better course. He could fine Hogg some £18,000, or £19,000, but did not propose to do that. Hogg was allowed 14 days to pay the fine.

BERLIN, June 20 (Reuter)—Notices have been posted in Poland today (Friday) stating that all men born in the year 1897 and onwards belonging to the Reserve or Landsturm must report to the authorities, according to a Helsinki dispatch to the German News Agency. The announcement is signed by the Defence Minister.

SHIPPING LOSSES IN MAY: TONNAGE LESS THAN MARCH, APRIL

BRITISH, ALLIED AND NEUTRAL SHIPPING LOSSES, due to enemy action, during MAY totalled 461,328 tons. Ninety-eight ships were lost altogether, these including losses in the Eastern Mediterranean.

The total tonnage is lower than that of MARCH and APRIL.

The details of the losses are as follows:—

BRITISH	- - -	37 ships (355,000 tons)
ALLIED	- - -	20 ships (92,000 tons)
NEUTRAL	- - -	5 ships (13,000 tons)

The revised figures for March and April were 505,750 tons and 581,251 tons, respectively. The original figures were 347,000 and 488,124 tons, respectively.

It was stated that the increase shown in April was mainly caused by attacks during the evacuation from Greece and Crete.

Enemy losses from MAY 10 to JUNE 10 totalled 300,000 tons.

It is added that the most serious British losses in May were in the North Atlantic. There was no question that the enemy had changed his tactics and steps were being taken to deal with them.

Ships were being built for us in the Dominions and in the United States.

STOP PRESS Invasion Of Egypt

BY LOCUSTS

President Roosevelt, in a message to Congress, stated that it had been established without doubt that the Robin Moor was sunk by a German submarine.

The specific purpose of the sinking was the interruption of United States trade with all friendly countries.

The United States, said Mr. Roosevelt, must take it that notice had been served on them that American shipping on the seven seas was not immune from Nazi attack.

"In other words we must take it that warning has been served on us. It is a warning that the United States may use the high seas only with Nazi consent."

Mr. Roosevelt did not propose any line of action in his message to Congress but chose this form of protest with the most forceful words at his command.

CAIRO, June 20 (Reuter)—An invasion of Egypt has taken place—by swarms of locusts from the Eastern Desert.

Stretching in some cases four kilometres in length and a kilometre in width, these swarms are attacking Aswan and Kena provinces in Upper Egypt.

The Ministry of Agriculture has despatched parties of fully equipped experts to deal with the situation.

The Under-Secretary of the Ministry is included in a party in order to supervise personally the salvage work.

NAZI CONSULATE IN MANILA TO BE CLOSED

SHANGHAI, June 20 (Reuter)—The Philippines High Commissioner has ordered the closure of the German Consulate-General in Manila and the departure of the Consular Staff by July 10, says a Japanese report.

JUNK CAUGHT IN STORM

Caught at sea in a storm off Laysan, a fishing junk was dashed against the shore and completely wrecked.

The eight occupants of the boat were safe. They were picked up by a passing fishing junk and brought to Hongkong yesterday.

A report was made by Leung Kan, 45, master of the ill-fated junk, who claimed that the loss incurred was over $2,000.

Canadian Exports

During May, Canadian exports of food were to the value of over $10,000,000 which was 2½ times more than a year ago and most of it went to the United Kingdom.

There were also huge increases in the exports of trucks and motorcars totalling $18,500,000.

"Canada is really on the march," was the comment.

Today's News Summary

THERE IS AN OMINOUS LULL in the European war situation but events tend to point to an attack by Germany on Russia. There is much speculation and it is generally conceded that the Nazis want the wheat in the Ukraine and other resources to prepare themselves for the final assault on the British Isles.

SHIPPING LOSSES FOR MAY are announced and it is revealed that the total tonnage is less than in March and April. The figures for the latter months have been revised and the April losses include the ships that were sunk in the evacuation from Greece and Crete.

FOR THE NINTH NIGHT in succession British bombers were over Germany the main targets being the industrial centres at Cologne and Düsseldorf. Two of our planes are missing from this operation. The fall of enemy air activity over Britain continues.

A SCOTTISH POTATO FARMER has been heavily fined in London for failing to sell American money to the Treasury. There was some caustic comment made by the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate.

WORLD ATHLETIC RECORDS: RECENT PERFORMANCES AT LOS ANGELES

THE WORLD RECORD PERFORMANCE AT LOS ANGELES ON WEDNESDAY LAST OF BRUTUS HAMILTON'S UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA MILE RELAY QUARTET has put in the shade the best relay marks of the past. Beaten even was the mark set by the great British team of Wolff, Rampling, Roberts and Brown at Berlin in 1936.

The California quartet's time has been beaten once. That was at the Los Angeles Olympic Games in 1932 when Ivan Fuqua of Indiana, Karl Warner of Yale, Edgar Ablowich of Southern California and Bill Carr of Penn ran 1.600 metres in 3 mins. 08.2 secs., the equivalent of a mile in 3 mins. 09.0 secs.

REMARKABLE PERFORMANCE

The University of California team that beat a U.S.C. four by inches on Wednesday were two fifths of a second off this time, a truly remarkable performance. Once only had this time been bettered in the past, and that by a National team anchored by the Pennsylvania wonder, William A. Carr, considered today to have been a runner who never reached his prime.

Bill Carr ran exactly one season in collegiate and national competition. He won the Olympic 400 metres in 48.2 seconds, defeating Ben Eastman and Alex Wilson, two of the greatest "greats" of Quarter Mile fame, and was forced to leave the track for good the following year after having been involved in an automobile accident that spelled the end of his running days.

Carr in 1933 or 1934 would probably have been the first man to beat 46 seconds flat for the Quarter-Mile.

SECOND BILL CARR

Anchoring the mighty California team today is a second Bill Carr. Grover Klemmer, the 21-year-old California boy has run the "Quarter" in 46.8 seconds and is yet being held in check lest he be burnt out before his prime.

With Klemmer on the California relay team are Clarence Barnes, better known as a half-miler, who has a best time for the "Quarter" of 47.2 secs., Ray Froom, a 47.6 man, and Johnny Reese, better known as a low-hurdler, who has done 47.8 secs.

It is an interesting fact to note that these four times add

Weather Prospects Bright For Week-End Baseball: Best Tilt Fixed For Sunday

BY "R.O.Y."

With the weather prospects looking very much brighter, baseball fans are expected to turn out at Chatham Road ball park in full force this afternoon when the Hongkong Baseballers go after the scalps of the Hongkong Brewers at 2.30 p.m. in the opener of a twin billing.

The other half of the card will be supplied by the U.S.S. Asheville and Chung Hwa who are scheduled to clash at 4.30 p.m. or thereabouts.

Tomorrow's lone fixture will see the Mindanaos in action against their Asheville compatriots, commencing at 10 a.m.

Manager Chuck Waggoner has high hopes of giving the Brewers a pennant hopes a jolt this afternoon when he will start either Frank Crews or Berlie Johnson on the mound, Joe Morris behind the pan, Hank Sperry at the initial bag, Johnny Schallberg at the keystone, Lou Leight at third and Pete Fitch at the Windy Alley with picketmen selected from Crews or Berlie Johnson, Fittinghoff, Gas Oliver, Pinky Higgins and Luke Hamlin.

The Brewers will have Madeen Arculli and Oscar Arculli forming the battery, Stan Leonard at first, Tony Alves at second, Dave Leonard at third and George Souza at short. Gardeners will be chosen from Hank All, Baby Abbas Jindoo Hussain, Artur Ozorio and Lefty Joe Bowen. Umpires will be "Grappop" Leung, McClanahan and P. F. Choy.

CHUNG HWA OPPOSITION?

Although the Asheville lads are expected to take Chung Hwa decisively, the latter, judging from their steady form against South China, should put up quite a fair showing if Al Lau can only repro-

"THE FIRST REBEL"

PEACE CONVENTION RATIFIED

HONGKONG, June 20 (Reuter).—The Assembly unanimously ratified the Thailand-Indo-China Peace Convention.

The Premier, in thanking the House, expressed his appreciation of Japanese mediation in the frontier conflict and stressed that Thailand would follow the time-honoured policy of friendship for all Powers.

"DID RUDOLF HESS PEACE PLAN OR NOT?"

Government Policy Towards Incident Criticised In House Of Commons

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter).—"The complete and apparently directed silence in the Press and elsewhere about Hess" was remarked on in the House of Commons yesterday by the Labour member, Mr. Samuel Silverman. Mr. Silverman contended that if Lord Beaverbrook had taken a Spitfire and landed by parachute at Berchtesgaden, the Germans would have made much better use of the incident than we have made of the news sensation.

He asked whether the incident was being used to cause doubt and mystification in the minds of the German population or of our own. Mr. Silverman asked the direct question: "Did Hess bring a peace plan or not?"

He also asked what Mr. Churchill believed that Hess had told the United States when he came to Britain to say to the Government and what it was that Mr. Churchill said as we join the United States Government in Russia, hoping to entrap the Germans into a peace plan which would be to the detriment of the United States.

Another Labour member, Mr. Richard Stokes, said that the whole position was fraught with suppression in statements and perhaps untruths. Mr. Stokes alluded to the statement of Sir Archibald Sinclair on May 22 that the Duke of Hamilton did not recognise Hess and had never met him.

INCORRECT STATEMENTS

Mr. Stokes emphasised that he was making no imputation against the Duke of Hamilton and asked why the Duke should not know Hess. But he charged the Government with making incorrect statements.

The Conservative member, Mr. Vyvian Adams, blamed the Government for allowing the Germans to be first with the allegation that Hess was mad. That theory, he said, is still widely entertained among the bewildered British public whereas Hess is no more mad than Judas Iscariot or Satan.

Better than silence would have been our ruthless use of this gift from Hell, but the Ministry of Information had made no more use of it than an oyster.

BRING A SIR RONALD CAMPBELL IN ENGLAND

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter).—The British Minister in Yugoslavia, Sir Ronald Campbell, who had been a prisoner in Italy for five weeks arrived in England last night, Reuter learns.

He left Italy about a week ago and arrived here via Lisbon together with other British Consular officials and certain officers of the British Council.

He fell into the hands of the Italians when Italian troops occupied Herzegovina, in Dalmatia on April 18.

The American Embassy in Rome worked hard in arranging with the Italian Government for the safe passage to England of the British Minister and those with him.

OPPOSITE VIEW

The Conservative member, Mr. Henry Strauss, took the totally opposite view and argued that whatever the assumption "you take about the circumstances in which Hess left Germany, the advantages of leaving Germany guessing are overwhelming."

Mr. Strauss contended that the Government's silence had led the Germans into a palpable lie and into fantastic contradictions, whereby they had lost prestige in every country in the world.

GOVERNMENT REPLY

The Government's reply was made by the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Mr. R. A. Butler, who declined to depart from the Government's present policy of silence about Hess. He declared that there was no mystery or confusion about Hess, who is a prisoner of war and is being treated as such and will continue to be so treated.

Mr. Silverman interposed to ask whether he was being treated as a civilian prisoner or as a Field Marshal.

Mr. Butler said that he was being treated as an officer—perfectly fairly and rightly as a prisoner of war with all the attendant circumstances.

It was nonsense to suggest that Hess is at Chequers.

Other conjectures as to the reason for Hess coming here could be left to the imagination of individual members and members were given full rein to their imagination today.

DUKE OF HAMILTON

Mr. Butler said that he was unable to satisfy curiosity for reasons of public interest.

"On the point whether the Duke of Hamilton knew Hess or whether correspondence had taken place before, Mr. Butler said that he had nothing to add to Sir Archibald Sinclair's statement of May 22.

There was substantial point as to why, if the American Government was informed, British public opinion should not be informed as well. There had been endless diplomatic exchanges between Britain and other countries throughout the war and "it has been a source of sorrow that I am not in a position to divulge them to Parliament."

PUBLIC MORALE

"The British public should share, as far as possible, the inner thoughts of the Government, but in this case, we do not believe that we have anything to say which would make for an improved effort of the public, and we do not believe that by not saying anything we are in any way upsetting public morale."

Dealing with points of general policy raised in the debate, Mr. Butler declared that it was the Government's desire to avoid making idealistic statements about the future which may not be realised. "We are in the middle of a tough job and are determined to see it through."

"Reference has been made to the Cliveden Set and the Holy Roman Empire. They are both dead and may they so remain. We want to build not only a new set in this country but a new Europe and that is a job we can pursue without making grandiose statements."

WITHDRAWAL OF U.S. CONSULAR STAFFS DEMANDED BY GERMANY

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter).—"Much incriminating evidence of offences on the part of American representatives" is contained in the German note to the United States demanding the withdrawal of American Consular staffs from Germany and German occupied territory, says the official German news agency last night.

It says the German Foreign Office has "a mass of material on intrigues injurious to the State and has prohibited the news service of the American Consulates."

The German news agency mentions a number of American Consular officials by name.

"Thus," it states, "the Consul-General in Cologne, Mr. Alfred H. Kiefer, in the autumn of 1939 and in the spring of 1940 carried out espionage against Germany by using, in conjunction with the Belgian Consul-General in Cologne, a code for reports on the German march into Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg."

The Vice-Consul in Hamburg, Mr. Ralph Gebinger, is accused of "carrying out espionage in the spring of 1941 against Germany by making sketches of the railway system and military installations near Hamburg."

Considerable Curiosity As To Nazi Anxiety For Pact With Turkish Govt.

ANKARA, June 20 (Reuter).—"We Turks will never go to Vienna" is a statement heard on all hands following the signature of the German-Turkish Pact, and Turks are anxious that it should be made clear that Turkey remains a friend also of Britain.

In view of the present geographical and military situation, with German troops near her frontier, the new agreement has obvious advantages for Turkey.

Turkish policy is to remain non-belligerent and she has no aggressive intentions against anybody.

On the other hand, she had been nervous lest Germany might try to drive east across Turkey.

The new pact removes this possibility for the immediate future and therefore, as it blocks one of the approaches to the Middle East, it is held to be of value to Britain.

Considerable curiosity exists as to why Germany was so anxious to sign the pact under any conditions, and some observers suggest that she wants to assure that Turkey remain neutral in the event of a German attack on Russia.

STATEMENT IGNORED

The fact that the latest Tass agency statement on Soviet-German relations has been virtually ignored by the German press and radio and persistent rumours that Hitler will shortly demand the return of Bessarabia to Rumania and large economic concessions, lend weight to this suggestion, while the pact removes yet another explanation for the presence of large German troop concentrations on the Russian frontiers.

HEAVY BRITISH ATTACK ON BREST

Large Fires Started In Bremen

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter).—Strong forces of British bombers on Wednesday night attacked ports in north-west Germany and the naval base at Brest where the battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and a Hipper class cruiser are berthed.

Despite variable and often cloudy weather the British aircraft reached their objectives, says the Air Ministry news service.

Heavy bombs were seen to burst across the docks at Brest and at Bremen large fires were started.

STRANGE WEATHER

One pilot said: "The weather was strange. The North Sea was hidden by haze and we could only just detect the German coast. It was queer to see anti-aircraft shells bursting above it as if coming from nowhere."

"Despite all this obscurity, there were occasional gaps through which we could check our approach to the river and the docks."

"At Bremen, one of our bombers was attacked four times by an enemy fighter and before long a burst drove it off. Tracer bullets were seen enter the fighter which fell away obviously in trouble."

"The British bomber returned home without further interference."

NAZI PROMISES

It is, however, unlikely to remove the suspicion with which Germany had been viewed here and the Turks know exactly what German promises and assurances mean.

The agreement will be used by Goebbels as a diplomatic triumph to offset Axis reverses in the United States, but that Turkey remains faithful to her alliance with Britain is seen in the clear statement in the preamble on which the Turks insisted, refusing to sign if the clause was not included.

"MUTUAL CONFIDENCE"

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter).—"Mutual confidence" is the keynote of telegrams exchanged between President Inonu of Turkey and Herr Hitler on the occasion of the conclusion of the German-Turkish Treaty.

President Inonu's telegram, as published here, says the agreement "sets a seal to true and sincere friendship between Turkey and Germany" and says: "Our two countries and peoples on this day enter into an era of mutual confidence with the firm intent always to maintain it."

HITLER'S REPLY

Hitler, in reply, declares: "I also am certain that our two countries now enter upon an era of lasting mutual confidence."

Telegrams were also exchanged between M. Sarajoglu and Herr Von Ribbentrop.

SWEDISH COMMENT

STOCKHOLM, June 20 (Reuter).—In Berlin, the conclusion of the German-Turkish Treaty is regarded as meaning Turkey's inclusion in the political system of the Axis, says the Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm Tidningen.

With regard to the declaration in the Pact that earlier Turkish engagements are not affected, the correspondent says: "Political quarters in Berlin interpret this as a meaning that if contrary to expectation the Von Papen pact comes into conflict with earlier treaties, then naturally the most recent document will have preference."

NATURAL INTEREST

"Despite Turkey's natural interest in Syria," adds the correspondent, "it is stated here that it is wrong to suppose that the pact will affect military operations there, these being affairs of the French. Berlin does not think France will be obliged to seek German aid."

"It is considered certain in Berlin," says the correspondent, "that Turkey did not sign without consulting the Soviet."

"If the Soviet advised the Turks to sign, this is regarded as a good omen for a Russo-German settlement which is expected to eventuate at the end of the present week."

MALTA RAIDERS ARE INTERCEPTED

CAIRO, June 20 (Reuter).—Enemy aircraft approached Malta on Wednesday on two occasions, but owing to interception by British fighters, raids did not materialise. Instead, one Italian fighter was shot down and two others were badly damaged.

From all Middle East operations, four British aircraft are missing.

ABYSSINIA POSITION

CAIRO, June 20 (Reuter).—In Abyssinia, while patriot forces are steadily increasing pressure on the Italian garrison in the Gondar district, British troops are continuing their advance on Debra Tabor.

In the southern areas, operations are proceeding satisfactorily.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS:

Mirs Bay Hold-Up Sequel:
"Cat" And Gaol For Robber

Robbery is getting too frequent. The public is entitled to protection against people like the accused. I issued a warning at the last Sessions that each case would be dealt with severely.

"Accused will go to prison for three years with hard labour. He will also receive 12 strokes of the 'cat,'" said Mr. Justice P. E. F. Cressall at the Criminal Sessions yesterday when he passed sentence on Lo Yau against whom the jury returned an unanimous verdict of guilty on the charge of robbery by two or more.

PEAK STABBING
INCIDENT HAS
COURT SEQUELGardener Charged
With Malicious
Wounding

Further evidence was taken by Major A. N. Macfadyen yesterday at the Central Magistracy at the committal proceedings against Lee Wing, alias Lee Wing-cheung, 39, former gardener of No. 153, The Peak, charged with having unlawfully and maliciously wounded Huen Pul, No. 1 gardener of the Peak Club, No. 118, The Peak, at Aberdeen Old Road on May 4, with intent to cause him grievous bodily harm.

The prosecution was conducted by Det.-Insp. J. O'Donovan, assisted by Sub-Insp. P. Kehett.

Complainant, Huen Pul, in evidence, said that on the night of May 3/4, he was sitting in the verandah of the Peak Club on the watch for a person, who had on previous occasions stolen flowers from the Club garden.

CUTTING LILIES

About 2.30 a.m., witness saw a man thief cutting lilies from pots near the main gate. He rushed out; the thief ran and he chased after him.

The chase was made along the road going towards Aberdeen and ended below Sir Robert Ho Tung's house when witness caught up with the man, both falling onto the shrubbery on the left side of the road. There the thief stabbed him with a knife.

Later, witness got back to the road and crawled to a spot near a house, where a Shantung constable came along.

Hearing was adjourned to this morning.

COLONY SUPPLY OF SUGAR

According to Mr. D. L. Newbigging, the Controller of Food, it was learned that arrangements have already been made by the authorities to conserve supplies of sugar in accordance with the general scheme of assuring adequate supplies of rations in the event of an emergency.

It was pointed out that it was not possible to deal with sugar as with other non-perishable commodities, and it is gathered that the Takoo Sugar Refinery Co., Ltd. is co-operating to the fullest extent possible with the authorities.

NAZI CONSULATE FOR MACAO

It was authoritatively learned that a Nazi Consulate is shortly to be opened in Macao. A number of Germans are living in Macao, some of them former Hongkong residents who fled there just before the outbreak of the war.

It is understood that the Consulate will be staffed by Nazis and their chief objective will be to disseminate Axis propaganda throughout South China.

HEALTH BULLETIN

The following is the Returns of notifiable diseases notified as having occurred in the Colony during the 24 hours ended at midnight on June 19:—Cholera, five cases; Dysentery, five cases; Measles, one case; Tuberculosis, 19 cases; Typhus Fever, one case.

EASTERN PORTS

The Health Bulletin of Eastern Ports for the week ending on June 14 is as follows:—Cholera: Macao, 57 cases; Small-Pox: Macao, one case; Shanghai, three cases.

YOUTH DIES

A 15-year-old Chinese youth, who sustained a fractured skull as a result of a fall on the footpath near No. 95 Oak Street, Mongkok, on Tuesday, died yesterday at the Kowloon Hospital.

Another man, Tsun Wan alias Tsu Cheung, who was also arraigned before His Lordship with Lo Yau was acquitted by a 5-2 majority verdict of Not Guilty.

Mr. J. P. Murphy, Assistant Crown Solicitor prosecuted, assisted by Sergeant Franklin, while the two defendants were represented by Mr. Hin-shing Lo instructed by Mr. J. M. Hall.

The jury comprised Messrs. A. S. McKay (Foreman), Chiu Kwan-chee, F. P. Pereira, F. E. Castro, Wong Tak-wing, D. V. Tenashevsky and F. V. Wong.

The two men were alleged to have robbed the passengers and crew of a trading junk at Mirs Bay, British waters, on May 17, of money, clothing, wood-oil, pieces of tin, wolfram ore, two watches and various articles.

DEFENCE SUBMISSION

Addressing the Jury, Mr. Lo stated that the evidence given by Wong Yung, one of the alleged victims, was hardly credible as he had claimed that the first defendant, not satisfied with having robbed his victims, must put them ashore and conveniently let his mask slip off in order that his victims might see his face.

Two other witnesses for the Crown, went on Counsel, were unable to appear before the Court to give evidence although they testified against the defendants at the Magistracy.

As to the second accused, Counsel drew the attention of the Jurors to his "profound knowledge" of the mechanism of one of the watches which the Crown alleged were stolen. Although accused showed a remarkable knowledge of the watch, which he was alleged to have stolen, the alleged owner confessed to absolute ignorance of the inside of the watch.

After Mr. Murphy had addressed the Jury and after the summing-up by His Lordship, the Jurors retired and returned with their verdicts after 40 minutes' deliberation.

Briton Sent
To Prison
In Shanghai

Convicted twice previously on charges of operating gambling establishments in Shanghai, W. Hawkins was brought up in H. M. Police Court again on June 12 on similar charges before Mr. C. H. Haines, H. M. Registrar, and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, reports the North China Daily News. Hawkins was arrested at 10.15 p.m. in a lightning raid on his establishment in Apartment "D," 74 Nanyang Road; in all, 24 persons were arrested, the majority of whom were caught in the act of gambling at a roulette table.

ACCUSED'S DENIAL

Speaking from the prisoner's box, the accused pleaded not guilty to the charges of keeping and using the Nanyang Road apartment for an unlawful common gaming house.

Hawkins mentioned two points in his own defence, firstly, that he did not rent the apartment for gambling purposes originally but had permitted roulette to be played on the premises from time to time at the request of his friends; secondly, he denied that any money was passed in his apartment. Both points were over-ruled in court.

TRAFFIC JAM

A taxi which broke down near the Queen's Road junction yesterday at 1 p.m. blocked Pedder Street and held up about 20 motor-cars and two buses for 15 minutes before the driver managed to back the car alongside the pavement, allowing those behind to continue their journey.

JEWELLERY THEFT

Mr. D.C. Loneraine, manager of the Gosterner (Eastern) Ltd., residing at No. 4, Garden Terrace, reported that between 11.30 p.m. on Wednesday and 8.30 a.m. on Thursday, some person or persons entered his house and stole $400 worth of jewellery.

ROUND THE POLICE COURTS

AT CENTRAL

LIFE BANISHEE

For breach of the deportation order by returning from expulsion, a life banishee, Kwong Yiu, 23, was sentenced to eight months' hard labour by Mr. G. T. Lowry yesterday.

Det.-Sgt. W. Summers said that defendant was arrested on information at Hollywood Road on Thursday.

ALLEGED ARMED ROBBERS

Five men were remanded until Monday by Major A. N. Macfadyen yesterday on two counts of armed robbery.

Defendants were Kwok Chung, 29, unemployed, Ng Ming-ho, 28, unemployed, Chau Ming-kam, 24, boarding house runner, Li Kam-sang, 24, unemployed, and Chan Hing, 27, boarding house runner.

Det. Sub-Insp. C. T. Byron is in charge of the case.

HEARING REMANDED

Wan Luen, 21, unemployed, was remanded by Major Macfadyen for 72 hours on a charge of having, together with one Yeung Pak, alias Yeung Man-fai and another not in custody being armed with a steel tyre gauge, robbed a marine hawk, Lal Kwan, of No. 18, Eastern Street, second floor of a purse containing $4.85 on the roof of No. 516, Queen's Road West on June 13.

Det. Sub-Insp. C. T. Byron is in charge of the case.

DEFENDANT DISCHARGED

The case in which Tong Tak-wah, 42, managing partner of the Fook Cheong Wo firm, No. 4, Jubilee Street, ground floor, was charged on two counts of larceny of various sums from the partnership of the firm and another two counts of unlawful possession of forged banknotes, was brought to a close yesterday when defendant was discharged by Mr. Lowry owing to insufficient evidence.

DUO-BRIDGE

(BRITISH MADE)

(The Board for Two Players)

Two Bridge players can use the DUO-BRIDGE Board anywhere and at any time; there is no need to go out to the Club these nights.

You will enjoy it in any situation, because it is the very best Bridge game for two people yet invented.

Let us admit at once that there are certain technical difficulties which cannot be overcome. We are well aware of them—but they do not affect character of the game in any way. Neither players sees more than his own hand while bidding and only his own hand and Dummy during play.

It is obvious that peculiar bidding, psychics and wild jump-overbids are no issue in such a game, indeed the hands have been very carefully selected.

A TRUE FINDING

THE REPORT of the Commission appointed to inquire into the affairs and conduct of the Immigration Office is what the public expected it to be. The inquiry which was conducted in a fair and unbiased manner to all concerned has resulted in a true verdict being brought in and in no way can the findings of the Commission be described as being harsh or unjustified. We are not concerned with finding any extenuating circumstances which led the Immigration Officer concerned not only to permit of misdemeanour and misconduct in his department, but to be guilty of such himself. The finding of the Commission is clear on this point: "Mr. Forrest, in our opinion, has proved himself unfit for the position of head of this, or any other department, and we recommend that Government give the most careful consideration to the question of his retention in the public service." The fact that a Government officer, with over twenty years service in the Colony, has been publicly found unfit for service as the head of a department, is a grave reflection on the Government's selection of its senior officers for responsible posts. We are well aware that deterioration in health brought about by nervous strain can make an efficient officer incompetent to hold senior appointments, but in Mr. Forrest's case no such plea was offered until the inquiry began.

WHAT is more important, however, from the point of view of the Commission's findings, is that the lesson of the Immigration scandal should be taken seriously to heart by the Government executive. The Commission has bluntly apportioned a large share of the blame to the Government itself. It has charged the executive of being unhelpful in its attitude towards its various departments and of failing to maintain that close and attentive contact which is necessary for the smooth running of the administration in every field of activity. For years past, the complaint against the Government in this Colony has been that it has failed to maintain close association with the public and thereby secure the co-operation and confidence of all communities here. Now it has become apparent that this lack of co-operation and helpfulness exists even within the Government itself, a state of affairs that can hardly be expected to be conducive to efficient administration which is so vital to the Colony's well-being. Far too much of the proper management of the various departments is left to their immediate heads with little or no supervision and attention to their working from the executive.

THIS is the most important lesson to be gained from the haphazard way in which the Immigration Department was permitted to function until its incompetence led to the impasse which made a complete investigation necessary as a result of a demand by the public. There are today other Government departments where a similar state of affairs which led to the Immigration scandal are steadily growing. We have personal knowledge of misdemeanours being carried on and of laxity in efficiency and management in some of the most important branches of the Colony's administration. Just as we felt it our duty, in the interests of the tax-paying public in Hong Kong, to expose the chaotic state of affairs that existed in the Immigration Office, so shall we continue this policy unless we are convinced that definite and drastic steps are being taken by the Government executive to put their house in order and to preserve the good name of the Colony by taking such action as will prevent a repetition of the disgraceful series of incidents that led to a Government department and its head being brought to book before a public tribunal.

1,500 Volunteers Required As A.R.P. Tunnel Wardens

Fifteen hundred volunteers are required for service in the A.R.P. tunnels. They may be men or women and should preferably be over 25 years of age, strong and able to take charge, and above all capable of keeping calm and level-headed under all conditions, stated the Director of Air Raid Precautions, Wing Commander A. H. S. Steele-Perkins, at his weekly press conference yesterday.

Knowledge of first aid treatment would be very desirable in these volunteers, but not essential. They will be given a short course of training and enrolled for purposes of discipline and pay in the Hongkong Corps of Air Raid Wardens.

Their duties will consist in: (a) Shepherding people through various passages in the tunnels; (b) Preventing the passages becoming jammed, in seeing that the best possible use is made of all available shelters, and putting into practice the slogan, "Move along the corridors, please!" (c) Keeping order, preventing smoking, spitting and other insanitary acts; (d) Rendering every assistance to children, the aged, invalids, and the infirm.

(e) Being in charge of certain stores, such as blankets, lamps, pickaxes, shovels, etc. Applications to join the tunnel warden service are now being received and should be forwarded to the Director of Air Raid Precautions.

The Deputy Chief Air Raid Wardens on both sides of the harbour have recently held inspections of all the A.R.P. Divisions and rendering satisfactory reports on the condition and general efficiency of the personnel.

There are now 4,000 wardens available for public service, the Director of A.R.P. stated, and 1,000 more House Wardens. There is need for a further 3,000 Wardens and the step recently taken to institute recruiting centres at the police stations in a number of districts has produced 500 volunteers in the last three weeks.

THE DATE of the next black-out is entirely dependent on the manufacture of certain street-lighting devices, and it is not anticipated that there will be one until the last week in July.

THE WAR IN THE AIR:

VALUE OF BRITAIN'S NEW RADIO WEAPON & THE LULL IN NAZI RAIDS

"Radio location will make it more and more expensive for German raiders to attack us by night and day. The full facts of this new improvement have not been disclosed, but enough has been said to show the public its enormous importance in air defence," said MAJOR OLIVER STEWART, M.C., A.F.C., editor of the London magazine "AERONAUTICS" and well-known authority on aviation, when he broadcast from London yesterday.

Major Stewart prefaced his comments with a reference to a remark made by Air Chief Marshal Sir Hugh Dowding at a previous conference at the Air Ministry in which he expressed his confidence in the ability of the R.A.F. to beat off enemy attacks.

A CLOSE SECRET

Sir Hugh Dowding's optimism was questioned at the time, but at that time Sir Henry was obviously thinking of the value of radio location in this present war. The experiments then being conducted with this weapon were a close secret until last Tuesday when Air Marshal Sir Philip Joubert had spoken about it at a press conference.

"Sir Hugh Dowding had good reason to believe in this radio location," said Major Stewart. "I have often said in these talks that fighters depend on the information they receive from the ground. They cannot hope to succeed unless they are fed all the time they are in the air with information from the ground about the enemy's progress."

"The success of our fighters in the Battle of Britain last summer must be attributed very largely to our system of location. But in spite of our secret having been so well kept, it is idle to suppose that the Germans failed to infer our use of some new detector. When their bombing squadrons flew over this country last September, they must have been astonished at the swiftness with which our fighters appeared on the scene. They must have known that something was taking place in the air which could act more quickly than the human eye."

"The power of our offensive has been steadily maintained against objectives in Western Germany and at the same time our methods of defence are being improved. No one expects a respite from bombing now or in the future. The only thing they expect is an increase in the number of raiders brought down and a steady increase in the weight of our attacks on Germany."

"In both respects their wishes have been fulfilled. We are hitting back at the Germans in Germany with increasing force," concluded Major Stewart.

HALF FINISHED DUTCH CRUISER TOWED TO U.K.

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter).—The help given the Allied cause by the Dutch was referred to by the Netherlands Prime Minister in a speech yesterday.

A greater part of the Dutch Navy was brought to Britain, he said, and the largest cruiser, then lying half finished in the dockyards, was towed with workmen aboard to a British harbour where she has since been completed.

The nation's gold was saved as well as the merchant fleet.

The Democratic cause, he added, had a splendid ally in the pacifist resistance of the subjugated peoples.

WILL GERMANY ATTACK?

There had been no particular principles to keep Germany and Russia apart. The principles of their systems were more likely to draw them together.

Mr. Voigt, in commenting on the German methods of obtaining what they wanted, said that German troops usually had little or no fighting to do when demands were made on neighbouring States. They simply arrived at the right moment to clinch a victory.

The Germans were now trying this art on the Russians, and Herr Hitler was making his plans against Ukraine.

The German interest in Ukraine was obvious as it was one of the richest regions in the world for coal, oil and grain.

CONQUEST HINIED

Mr. Voigt said that the conquest of Ukraine by the Germans was hinted at by a German professor after the last war. Ukraine had been nominally an independent State but had become, in fact, a Russian protectorate.

The Germans were now trying to revive the idea of an independent Ukraine and there was little doubt that Herr Hitler meant to set up a separate Ukrainian State once more.

"Whether Germany plans also to liberate the other territories recently conquered by Russia is to be seen," said Mr. Voigt. "There is Finland, for instance, and the German plans may mean that Finland may recover the independence which she lost to Russia. The Germans themselves believe that M. Stalin will grant all demands from Herr Hitler."

Mr. Voigt concluded by declaring that territory in Southern Russia would present many difficulties for a battle by infantry. Germany, however, was in need of the resources of Ukraine to help her to prepare herself for her final assault on the British Isles.

"There are the best of reasons for continuing to recognise the Vichy representative in Ottawa," said Mr. Mackenzie King, Canadian Prime Minister, on his return from the United States yesterday.

He noted that South Africa still retained its relationship with Vichy.

Mr. Mackenzie King said that President Roosevelt hoped to visit Canada in July or later in the summer.

AMERICAN TRIBUTE TO THE WOMEN OF BRITAIN

LONDON, June 20 (BWS).—Mrs. John Winant, wife of the American Ambassador, was guest of honour at the Forum Club lunch yesterday at which Princess Marie Louise, President of the Club, presided.

In an address to the members, Mrs. Winant said she wished to express her sense of the "magnificence of the response of English women" to conditions existing under the "blitz".

She paid a high tribute to the work women were doing in all spheres of activity, especially regarding the ceaseless day to day hard work in occupations which were now advanced far beyond any interest of novelty and had become absolutely an essential part of the nation's war effort.

NORTH KIANGSU OPERATIONS

JAPANESE ATTACK REPULSED

NORTH KIANGSU, June 20 (Central).—The attack on Wentien and Maoshan, points on the border of Tungtai in northern Kiangsu on June 5 by a mixed force of over 2,000 Japanese and puppet troops has been repulsed by the Chinese with heavy losses following severe fighting lasting two days and nights.

The attack was launched in several columns from Hsinhsu and Taihsien, but all of them were intercepted and engaged by the Chinese. Abandoning numerous war dead and considerable quantities of arms, the Japanese were driven back to their bases.

POSITIONS SHELLED

HINGTSI, June 20 (Central).—Chinese artillery units on the southern bank of the Yellow River on June 14 bombarded Japanese positions at Maotintu, an important crossing on the northern bank of the river, near the south Shansi border.

In addition to casualties inflicted, a number of Japanese army trucks were hit and destroyed.

FOREIGNERS WILL BE TREATED AS CHINESE

SHANGHAI, June 20 (Reuter).—Whatever their nationality may be, all foreigners joining the Chinese forces to fight against the Japanese will be treated as Chinese, declared the military spokesman, Colonel Akiyama, at a press conference this afternoon when asked to comment on reports of Chungking to join the Chinese air force.

The spokesman added that the Japanese have so far been unable to assess the true value of the American-made plane because of the inexperienced handling by the Chinese, and would welcome the chance of knowing what American planes are really capable of.

BRITISH INSTITUTE IN MALTA

LONDON, June 20 (BWS).—Notwithstanding repeated enemy attacks upon Malta, the British Institute there is still functioning satisfactorily and the membership is well maintained.

The Institute has no colleges attached to it but St. Edwards College and the Flores College, which are supported by the British Council, are also carrying on their work as usual.

This statement was made by the Colonial Under-Secretary in reply to a House of Commons question.

CHUNGKING IMPROVING AIR RAID SHELTERS

CHUNGKING is taking steps to improve air raid shelters following the suffocation disaster in a tunnel during a Japanese air raid on June 4.

Centralised control has been recommended by the Air Raid Shelters Technical and Management Committees following a preliminary survey of the private and public dugouts as well as the tunnels.

Diesel generators for the operation of fans and lights already installed in several sections of the vast tunnel system will be in charge of the engineering section of the Air Defence Headquarters and the Public Works Bureau.

The tunnels which have been completely cleaned will be linked up with the Air Defence Headquarters by telephones so that the people seeking shelter there will be in constant contact with the Headquarters.

Ventilation, lighting, sanitation, inspection, supply of information and educational programmes in all dugouts and tunnels will be carefully mapped out. Managers will be chosen. They will be required to study a short course on management before they are allowed to take up their duties.

Construction of more shelters has also been suggested. (Central News).

BLIND IN U.S. DEFENCE WORK

OAKLAND, Cal.—Proud of their ability to contribute to the nation's welfare, more than 100 blind men and women are at work on national defence orders at the State Industrial Home for the Blind.

The home has orders on hand for $35,000 worth of defence needs—102,000 pillow cases and 6,000 pairs of trousers for the army and 18,000 brooms for Mare Island navy yard.

The new factories were inaugurated despite predictions by skeptics that the blind were not capable of handling the work and that the home would not be able to compete with factories where sighted men are employed.

But not only were the blind able to produce the first order on time but the garments were declared 100 per cent. perfect by the army after rigid inspections—a record rarely equalled by any factory anywhere.

Furthermore, they already are well ahead of schedule and expect to complete a six-month contract six weeks ahead of time.

The factories of the home are now entirely self supporting, as a result of the national defence contracts.

FREIGHTER SUNK OFF PORTUGAL

LISBON, June 20 (Reuter).—The British ship Empire Warrior, which sailed from Newcastle with coal for Portugal, was sunk by airplanes some distance from Villa Real de San Antonio, close to the Spanish border.

The crew of 25, of which two are wounded, were saved by a Portuguese destroyer and fishing boat.

Members of the crew who arrived here state that their convoy was attacked off Cape St. Vincent by a submarine. Their call for help was responded to by a British seaplane. The latter attacked the submarine which made off and was possibly sunk.

MODERN CAVE-WOMAN

LONDON.—Cave life suits a woman, bombed out of her home, so well that she has not been out for three months.

She is Mrs. Kate Thorpe, eighty-five, one of the 4,000 people who sleep nightly in the caves at Chislehurst, Kent. Many of these people have no homes now. But the caves have modern attractions—A cinema, kitchens, canteens and electric light. Washing accommodation is being installed.

When the men go to work, the women spend the day tidying their furniture, preparing meals, caring for the children, mending and knitting, and only go out for a walk in the afternoon sunlight.

But Mrs. Thorpe sits all day in the dim candlelight. She has not left her pitch for three months.

"I was bombed-out of my home in Peckham," she says.

DAILY WALKS

At first she used to take daily walks in the fresh air. "But now I never go outside."

"For twelve weeks I've not seen the daylight. The air raids affected my nerves, and I can't walk far. Besides it's cosy here."

Mrs. Thorpe is looked after by her niece, Mrs. Rayner.

"I stay in here with her most of the time," says Mrs. Rayner. "Just nip out for a few minutes' fresh air to get the food."

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter).—Mr. Averil Harriman, President Roosevelt's representative who is on his first visit to arrange for the reception of U. S. war material for the Allied forces in the Middle East, arrived in Cairo by air yesterday.

Use Of "Brain Waves" To Detect Epilepsy, Tumours

What we of the street call "brain wave" recording and what the specialists more grandly call electroencephalography has taken its place in medicine. There must be forty hospitals and universities in the United States where brain-wave recorders are now used to detect masked epilepsy, brain tumours and the like, with the result that doctors and surgeons are better able to handle brain disturbances than ever before, observes the New York Times.

What this new branch of medicine needs is a book in which the whole art brain-wave recording is set forth, with pictures of the waves that are typical of specific conditions. Such a book, a monumental work, has been prepared by Drs. Frederic A. and Erna L. Gibbs of Harvard. "In the hope that it will help the reader to see at a glance what it has taken others many hours to find, that it will help to train his eye so that he can arrive at diagnoses from subjective criteria."

STARTLING DISCOVERY

Theories of the brain's mode of action, which were long accepted as certainties have turned out to be so much poetry. Whole chapters in standard textbooks on psychology, physiology and neurology must be discarded.

The startling discovery that the brain beats electrically, beats tirelessly, beats so long as we live and that its electrical beats are utterly different when it is healthy and when it is injured or diseased engenders the hope that many an affliction that sends its victim to the insane asylum or ends in death may be detected and successfully treated long before it becomes outwardly manifest.

This new branch of medical science owes much to Prof. Hans Berger of Jena. It was he who discovered in the maze of the brain's electrical rhythms one that seemed fundamental. "Alpha" he called it in most people it manifests itself on paper as a series of waves that come out at the rate of about ten each second. We may liken this rhythm to that of the heart. When we run, the heart beats more rapidly than when we sit at our desks. And so with the brain. Lie on your back, close your eyes, keep your mind blank and the brain then "ides" in neutral like a standing automobile's engine that is running with the least expenditure of energy. Open your eyes and give the brain work to do and the alphas are lost. What Berger calls "beta" waves then appear, which have a rate of about 25 a second. There are also deltas. On the whole the alphas are the telltale waves.

An expert has only to look at a record to detect rhythms that are either normal or abnormal in frequency.

Children, sleeping persons, deteriorated epileptics and patients in flaccid stupor have records that are slow compared with the standard. Fright, epileptic seizures, intoxication, drugs are associated with abnormally fast brain activity (actually activity of the cortex, or "bark" of the brain).

DIAGNOSTIC SUCCESS

Electroencephalography has probably made its most conspicuous diagnostic success in epilepsy. The records that the Gibbs publish reveal not only the kind of waves that come from an epileptic in convulsion but waves that indicate epilepsy of the masked type—that is, epilepsy that is not apparent at all more over, there is strong evidence that the way epilepsy runs in families can be traced—a matter of the highest importance to eugenicists. It is possible to detect even some carriers of epilepsy, that is, persons who are not themselves afflicted by epilepsy but who might have epileptic children if they married persons who had seizures. If brain wave recording had only this accomplishment to its credit it would be a great advance.

Though the Gibbs have necessarily devoted much space to epilepsy they also show the diagnostic power of brain wave recording in other states. Low sugar, overventilation, concussion, birth injuries, paralysis of one side produced by a blood clot, cerebral hemorrhages, cerebral arteriosclerosis, meningitis, multiple sclerosis, slow and involuntary twitching of the face, finger or toe (athetosis), St. Vitus's dance, narcoleptic sleep, migraine headaches, manic depressive psychoses, schizophrenia, morose states, imbecility, water on the brain, thyroid disease, brain tumours—all produce characteristic waves, though it is probably too much to claim that the records alone can be relied upon for certain diagnosis.

There is no doubt that the Drs. Gibbs have presented their medical colleagues with an important pioneer work. Instead of studying the vast literature on electroencephalography the medico who wants to use brain waves in diagnosing mental disorders can now

OIL SITUATION IN AMERICA SERIOUS

Ration Card System Under Consideration

WASHINGTON, June 20 (Reuter).—A call to the United States $12,000,000,000 oil industries to unite with Government in order that "our efforts to avert Democracy may not be hampered by any breakdown in the flow of essential petroleum products" was made by Mr. Harold Ickes, Secretary of Interior, when addressing an emergency meeting of petroleum executives representing two-thirds of the world's output.

Mr. Ickes afterwards told the Press that the ration card system for use in Eastern United States was "one of the things under consideration" if rigid restrictions on petroleum were made necessary by the expected oil shortage.

NO EXPORTS

Mr. Ickes declared he did not think a single drop of oil should be shipped to anywhere from the Atlantic seaboard.

Asked whether he included Britain, Mr. Ickes replied he meant all cargoes would be examined by Government before shipment but he emphasised Britain's supply was coming direct from producing areas and not from the Eastern seaboard area.

Bill For Control Of Prices Explained In The Commons

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter).—The British Government's comprehensive policy which is planned to extend over the whole of the financial, industrial, commercial and social activities of the country was explained in the House of Commons by the President of the Board of Trade, Mr. Oliver Lyttleton, in presenting the Bill for control of prices for goods and services.

The general object of the policy is to assist diversion of production and productive capacity to war purposes while keeping down the costs of the necessities of life.

Industrially this is secured by Government control of prices and distribution of raw materials and by rationing of food and clothing.

Mr. Lyttleton declared the prevention of any further increase of wages can only be effected by the maintaining of the purchasing power of money or ensuring that the cost of a reasonable quantity of essential commodities is kept reasonably steady.

Contribution to this end are made by the Chancellor's policy of mobilising extra purchasing power by voluntary and involuntary saving and high taxation and also by rationing.

Some rise in prices may occur owing to the actual increase in costs due to the war such as extra cost of ocean freight, insurance, etc.

EIRE SHORTAGE OF TEA

NEGOTIATION WITH INDIA UNDER WAY

DUBLIN, June 20 (Reuter).—Mr. Lemass, Supplies Minister, stated in the Dail yesterday that a Central Tea Purchasing Board had been established which was endeavouring the purchase of tea direct from India.

The Board had already purchased a quantity of tea in America and the shipment of it was being arranged, but as it was not sufficient to effect the ration purchase of a large quantity was being negotiated in India.

Mr. Lemass added the first cargo of wheat from America via Lisbon arrived in Dublin yesterday.

IRAQ-PALESTINE COMMUNICATIONS

LONDON, June 20 (Reuter).—Normal communications have been entirely restored between Iraq and Palestine via Transjordan, says a dispatch from Jerusalem to the Independent French News Agency. Caravan of motor-lorries are now running at Vin, Basra via Baghdad to Palestine where they are transporting considerable quantities of goods which had been held up at the port of Basra during the Rashid Ali revolt.

BARE LEGS AND PAINTED LEGS

Girl workers in Government offices at Wellington, New Zealand, have responded to the Government's appeal to buy fewer silk stockings in wartime by asking permission to appear at work with bare legs and sandals.

They intend to buy woollen stockings for the winter. Women who are saving their hostery are now seen in the streets with painted legs.

Special silk-finish paint is being demonstrated by mannequins in some of the city stores.

AMERICAN RED CROSS

Unofficially Reported To Be Getting Ready For War

CHICAGO.—The Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, largest chapter in the United States, states the CHICAGO TRIBUNE, is expected to fill at least a tenth of the rapidly expanding national Red Cross quotas. Officially, the big quotas have been set to meet "any emergency". Unofficially, the Red Cross is getting ready for war.

Since January 1st, the Red Cross has been building up a national reserve, Roger Holden, manager of the Chicago chapter, said recently. This reserve includes 20 million bandages and surgical dressings, 50,000 nurses for the army and navy, trained first aid instructors for every squad in the armed forces, and a corps of girl ambulance drivers.

Holden believes the first aid training programme may turn out to be the most important work of the Red Cross. Eventually, he said, enough soldiers will be trained so there will be one man versed in first aid for every eight men in the United States.

In the Chicago area, the demand for first aid training already has increased 100 per cent. over 1940. Red Cross courses now enroll 15,000 persons here, whereas last year's total was 8,000. In addition, the Red Cross is teaching first aid to every man in the Chicago police and fire departments and in the park district police force, and has increased its home nursing classes 30 per cent.

The Red Cross has a peacetime reserve of 50,000 nurses who may be regulated by the army or navy in time of emergency. In recent years, however, this dropped to 40,000; thus, 10,000 are now sought. Of the total, 21,000 are in what is known as the first reserve, single women 22 to 30 year of age who are available for any kind of service. The remainder, who compose the second reserve, are available only for home defence.

Expansion of needs for Red Cross services in the United States will cause no slackening in the work for foreign war relief, Holden said.

He believes the Chicago chapter is well prepared to take care for both. When asked what the Red Cross is doing for American soldiers, Holden replied: "We have expanded our service nationally 100 per cent."

This expansion, he said, includes establishing field representatives in all camps, forts, cantonments, and naval units. These would be at the back and call of every soldier and sailor, their families, and the military commanders to help solve social problems.

The most recent direct service of the Red Cross is a $1,000,000 appropriation for all kinds of recreational equipment. The Red Cross will not teach the soldiers of play, but give the soldiers the things with which to play.

Knitting for the American soldiers is not necessary, Holden said, because the Red Cross contends that the army issued clothing is adequate. "Our soldiers are better clothed and equipped than any on earth," he said.

Since September 1939, when the European war broke out, the Chicago chapter's corps volunteers has expanded to 31,000 from its peacetime average of 500. More than 100 new units have sprung up during the last year, giving the Chicago area 634.

The chapter's most novel current activity is its motor corps in which women between the ages of 18 and 40 are trained to execute "any transportation requested by the army, the navy, or national defence board." Estimates of the present national enrollment run as big as 30,000, but the Chicago chapter's first graduation class contained 51. Other classes will be formed soon.

U.S. BASE AT TRINIDAD: DEVELOPMENT STANDS HIGH IN LIST OF PRIORITIES

A flight of U.S. Army bombers landed recently in Trinidad to take up station there. From Brooklyn an Army transport laden with infantry and coast artillery sailed for the same destination, states Time. The two events, as intrinsically insignificant as the appearance of the first robin in the spring, were nonetheless informative.

They did not mean that now or even soon the U. S. would have a chain of well defended bases in the Atlantic and Caribbean. But they did mean that action was getting under way, and they implied that of all the chain of southern defence sites—not only those leased from Britain but those at Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the Canal Zone—Trinidad's development stood high on the list of priorities.

SERVICE STATIONS

Most of the still undeveloped sites will rate as service stations for naval, air and land forces. Thus Bermuda and Jamaica are to be major service stations (naval and air), Antigua and St. Lucia are to be secondary ones (for air). Three of the links in the chain will be much more than service stations. Trinidad, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone will be the key positions.

Trinidad is the southern spearhead, where defence is most urgent because it lies athwart the most practicable route for an enemy move from Dakar in western Africa, thence to some landing point on the eastern hump of South America, and northward to the Canal Zone. Central America, the U. S. itself. Geographically, Trinidad is also in a position to protect — or to dominate — the whole uncertain reach of northern

FINE ANCHORAGE

On the northwest point of Trinidad, just above Port-of-Spain, the American Navy has leased one of the finest anchorages in the Western Hemisphere: a place of deep clear water between low islands and the shore, where warships can ride at protected ease. The small but hilly islands are ideal for fortification.

The Navy also has ample land for a huge shore establishment: Marines, maintenance facilities for ships in the anchorage, headquarters forces. For the present, and for a considerable time to come, the Navy will have only what God and the British had already put in Trinidad: the anchorage itself, the great docks and the harbour of Port-of-Spain.

Britons and native Trinidadians do not altogether welcome the Navy's coming. For the Navy site is where Port-of-Spain has done its week-endling. Upper-class British can find other beaches and cruising grounds, but where the Negroes and Trinidad's proud Hindu and Moslem Indians can go for their fun, they do not know.

RIGID SECRECY

On the Army sites, inland from Port-of-Spain, contractors and thousands of Trinidad labourers have been frantically at work. The defence project had reached a point where smoke clouded the hot sky over two great airfields to be—smoke from thousands of acres of timbered lands, where the jungle was being hacked and burned away.

The War Department had clamped a rigid rule of secrecy upon its officers in all the bases outside the U. S., Trinidad included. But from the public, paved highways through the whole Army area, natives riding their stunted donkeys and any visiting motorist could see the outline of what is soon to be a tremendous outpost of the U. S. Army Air Corps.

TOKEN FORCE

The Army planes which arrived were only a token force. Until the jungle has been cut, burned, ploughed, rolled into smooth subsection, planes will have to berth on Port-of-Spain's Piarco airport, alongside the few British trainers there.

Not until autumn will the Army be able to move to its own leased sites, stud them with security forces of infantry, artillery, anti-aircraft. Neither the Army nor the Navy today has anything to fight a battle within Trinidad. But they (and the civilian contractors who are doing the field work) have got a sense of urgency, a desperate haste, which promises that Trinidad will soon be a spearhead with a point.

NO LICENCES FOR HAWKERS OF COOKED FOOD AFTER SEPT.

NO LICENCES WILL BE ISSUED TO ITINERANT HAWKERS OF COOKED FOOD AFTER SEPTEMBER, said HON. MR. W. J. CARRIE, Chairman of the Urban Council, when interviewed yesterday in connexion with his recent proposals to reduce the number of food stalls and the total abolition of cooked food hawkers.

Mr. Carrie frankly admitted that the problem could not be settled by just ordering that "hawkers be abolished," specially where the unlicensed hawkers are concerned.

"With the number of Health Officers at my disposal," went on Mr. Carrie, "it would be exceedingly difficult to clear the hawkers off the streets. The food stalls are entirely different. They could be regulated."

Regarding the usual plea that prices at the food stalls are considerably lower than those at eating houses, Mr. Carrie said that extensive inquiries made by the Senior Inspector into this matter revealed this to be a fallacy.

"Many of the patrons of the coolie class eating houses when asked the reason for their patronising the shops instead of the stalls replied that they found that the prices in the latter compare most favourably with the former—that they could get better quality food in the shops—and that they could sit down, around a table, when eating instead of having to either squat or stand around the stall," said the Chairman of the Urban Council.

As to the hawkers, went on Mr. Carrie, it was also incorrect to say that just because they have no overhead their prices must be lower than those at the eating houses.

MUST BE LIMITED

"The amount of food they can carry around must necessarily be limited, which means that their income must also be limited. In order to make a livelihood on their small capital they must, of necessity, add on a bigger margin of profit than the shops with a much greater turnover and which can, consequently, spread their overhead charges," said Mr. Carrie.

Asked how many licensed hawkers would be affected, Mr. Carrie stated that, according to figures compiled in Feb. last, there are still 1,474 hawkers licensed to sell cooked food.

Questioned as to what would be included in the term "cooked food," Mr. Carrie replied that the Health authorities would consider all "food usually eaten on the spot" as cooked food. Billed ham and bacon, roast pork, roast duck, "chop suey" and other roasted meat usually sold in Chinese shops would be excluded from the proposed amendments.

As to "peeled and cut fruits" it was decided to include coconut and pineapples although these two could not ordinarily be sold, to those who could only spare a cent or so, without being cut.

COMMUNAL KITCHENS

Asked whether Government could establish, for the convenience of those who usually rely on food stalls or hawkers for their food, communal kitchens in various districts, Mr. Carrie said that that was one of the matters which the Health authorities have had under consideration for some time.

Interviewed on the same subject, a leading member of the Chinese community said that if the action is being taken in the interests of public health then it deserves the whole-hearted support of the public. "But," he went on, "I sincerely hope that the Hon. Mr. Carrie will give the plight of the hawkers his most sympathetic consideration."

"It would be a calamity to deprive nearly 1,500 persons of their means of making a living."

"I would suggest," he continued, "that the Health Officers try to raise the standard of cleanliness of the hawkers. It is impossible to raise the standard of living of all the labourers here at present. As the workers depend on the hawkers for their daily supply of food, why not try to make the hawkers more 'health conscious'?"

Support for the proposed amendments was also voiced by Mr. H. Y. Tso, Secretary of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Tso expressed the hope that the Chairman of the Urban Council would take into consideration the question of alternative suitable employment for the hawkers who would be deprived of their licences.

CARPENTIER DEFENDS PRO SPORTS

Georges Carpentier as much as, if not more than, any other sportsman of his country, put French sport "on the map" and it is sad to read of the fight he is forced to make to keep the professional side going in France. There must be the hope that he will succeed so that post-war France will be able to take its place again in the sporting world.

The troubles arose when Jean Borotra, famous tennis amateur, was appointed the equivalent of a Minister of Sport. For reasons best known to himself Borotra's first move was to ban professionalism from all sports, except cycling. Why he left that sport alone nobody, unless it is Borotra, knows.

INSPIRE MASSES

Carpentier, however, has headed a deputation to try and stop such a sweeping revolution and to quote his own words "they (professionals) inspire in the great masses of athletes an emulation which can only profit the amateurs—without that emulation—all sports, amateur as well as professional, will perish."

Borotra has appointed a committee of eleven to rule French boxing. France has had some great boxers, Carpentier, Marcel Thil and Eugene Criqui to mention but three. Thil was world middleweight champion and Criqui held the world featherweight honours, but none of the three are on the "committee." That body includes the former world featherweight champion, Andre Routs, now almost blind and some lesser known men whose greatest fame is to have won French or European titles.

It is against such that Carpentier wages his fight, not only for boxing but, for all sports in which professionalism plays an important and noble part.

On Thursday, Ng Shi-fuk and Ng Chat saw a sampan, No. 4312W, lying off the shore at Cheung Chau and decided they would make use of the craft without taking the trouble of asking the owner, Lo Sau, for permission.

They rowed out to another sampan on which a woman, Sin Tai-mui was sleeping.

Ng Shi-fuk, according to his own admission, caught hold of the woman by the neck and snatched her pair of gold plated earrings.

The sequel to these escapades of the two men was their appearance before Mr. T. J. Houston yesterday charged with having stolen from the person of Sin Tai-mui a pair of gold plated earrings and with the larceny of a sampan.

Both defendants pleaded guilty to the two charges and were remanded for 72 hours, in gaol custody, for medical examination as to their fitness to be flogged.
